

PEBA Annual conference

Friday 8 May 2026

Planning: The Future isn't what it used to be

Planning and environmental law has never stood still, but today it feels as though it is shifting faster, and in more unexpected ways, than ever before. Against this backdrop, PEBA's 2026 Annual Conference invites you to step back and look ahead.

Join leading practitioners for a forward-looking programme, kindly hosted by Addleshaw Goddard in their new offices, exploring how planning law and practice are adapting to a world where certainty is increasingly elusive.

What does "good planning" and "good practice" mean in an era of legislative reform, environmental urgency and technological development? How should decision-makers, advocates and advisors respond when yesterday's solutions no longer fit today's problems? And what do we need in order to navigate what lies ahead?

Keynote speaker

Lord Justice Dove
